

RENAISSANCE STUDIES NOW

Two Roundtables

Please join us for two roundtables with early career scholars doing exciting work, exploring new frontiers, bringing new energy to Renaissance and early modern studies.

SPEAKERS INCLUDE: Abdulhamit Arvas (University of Pennsylvania), Fabrizio Baldassarri (IU Bloomington), Chad Córdova (Emory University), Alani Hicks-Bartlett (Brown University), Nasser Meerkhan (UC Berkeley), and Jane Mikkelson (University of Virginia).

May 2, 2022 · 11AM & 4PM

11AM SESSION: “Teaching the Renaissance NOW.” Mini-master classes where each presenter will share an example of how to make the study of the Renaissance relevant today, with a focus on one specific innovative approach or classroom tool.

4PM SESSION: “Renaissance Studies NOW.” Each presenter will give a brief example of the best work they do before we open for a general discussion of the state of the field, followed by a lively reception.

GAYLE KARCH COOK CENTER FOR PUBLIC
ARTS & HUMANITIES · MAXWELL HALL 222

This event is made possible with support from the College Arts and Humanities Institute, the College of Arts and Sciences, the Departments of English, of History and Philosophy of Science and Medicine, and of Spanish & Portuguese, the Center for Theoretical Inquiries in the Humanities, Islamic Studies, and from the Mary-Margaret Barr Koon Fund of the Department of French and Italian. (Please note that Maxwell 222 is not ADA accessible.)

FOR MORE INFORMATION, VISIT RENAISSANCE.INDIANA.EDU